Local Gossip

Notice: if you didn't get a newsletter this month, you probably forgot to turn in the survey in the Aug. Computer Rag. A limited quantity of newsletters will be placed in A-33 on a "first come, first served" basis. If you couldn't trouble yourself to return the form, but don't want to miss on the news, gossip, etc., that is where you should look. Limited quantities will also be available at club meetings. October Meetings: will be held on the 2nd Wed., Oct. 9, and the 3rd Tues., Oct. 15, both at 6 p.m. in OEC (top floor of Barracks "C"). The Wed. meeting may feature a presentation on operating systems (Apple DOS, CP/M, PC-DOS, MS-DOS, Macintosh Finder). Nothing in particular is scheduled for the Tues. Meeting.

Elections: have still not been formally held, but the lineup looks like this: David Lyden, Sec./Tres.; Robert McPherson, Librarian; Lawrence Charters, Newsletter Editor. Notice we still lack a President and Vice President, which are probably the two easiest jobs. Volunteer now! (It looks good on your fitness report, and you probably need something that looks good.)

September Meetings: featured a presentation on Macintosh public domain software at the Wed. meeting. No one seems to know why, but the meeting was both large and quite vocal. Most of this month's newsletter is devoted to a listing of Macintosh programs available through the club.

At the Tues. meeting, guests were treated to a presentation by Mr. & Mrs. Herman (Mr. & Mrs. because, sigh, my aged brain can't remember their first names) on AppleWorks and MousePaint. AppleWorks is a word processing, database management, and spreadsheet program that can walk, talk, and chew gum, usually at the same time. MousePaint acts much the same as MacPaint on the Macintosh, only in color.

Both meetings also featured extended discussions on the 2nd. Annual Yokosuka Computer Faire. Everyone seemed to agree we should follow the same format as last year, concentrating on displays by owners and users, with attendees free to ask questions at will.

Oops: the last newsletter neglected to mention Robert McPherson's Aug. presentation on an IBM PC-clone purchased in Hong Kong. Aided by real PC owner Kurt Tritchler, they tried to find some flaws, but failed. A nice machine at a great price.

Computer Faire

Yokosuka Computer Club's Second Annual Computer Faire has been scheduled for Sat. Nov. 2, from 1-4 p.m. The location has still not been confirmed, but inside sources are betting on the Coffee House. Volunteers are needed to demonstrate machines, software, act as gofers, etc. If you want to volunteer your services, or have ideas, call Lawrence at 234-4326.

Local Gossip (cont.)Mac Pack:

Lawrence Charters attended a Mac Pack meeting in Tokyo in Sept. As the largest Macintosh users group in Japan, Mac Pack attracts lots of interesting people, including John Boyd, "Computer Corner" columnist for the Japan Times, several biggies from Apple Japan and Canon, and lots of dealers and distributors. Mac Pack meets the 2nd Thurs. of every month in the Canon Bldg. at 11-28 Mita, 3-chome, in Tokyo (a block from Sengakuji subway station -- catch a red kanji train from Yokosuka, and enter the Canon bldg. from the side door). Sept. demos included EgWord, an amazing Japanese word processor, and a "mouse" which you moved by turning your head. Oct. presentations are planned on public domain software, modems and other telecom goodies, and whatever comes up. It's free, but show up early if you want a good seat.

Sullivans School's open house in Sept. featured millions of parents and children -- and Linda Blossom's robot turtle.

Blossom uses the Atari 800-controlled turtle in her classes to teach problem solving. She confesses the turtle doesn't have a name, which is just short of criminal.

KDD is rumored to be allowing people on base to sign up for Venus-P service. There is a ¥300 fee for paperwork, plus ¥40 per minute, plus ¥2.4 per segment (64 characters).

Several people at Yokota have allegedly succeeded in getting service. Honda in Akihabara is offering an IBM PC XT clone for ¥398,000. This is supposedly the same machine sold by Quadram in the U.S.

intends to use the factory to make keyboards and peripherals -- to sell to Apple.

Osborne Computer Corp. has signed an agreement to distribute its computers through military exchanges in Europe -- both to U.S. and NATO troops.

After three years of work, Apple has cancelled plans to release MacBASIC. Hayden, Sybex, and Osborne/McGraw-Hill have all published books on this non-existent language, and are -- annoyed.

According to a "computer word a day" calendar, M is "an abbreviation for the prefix mega, which is 1,000,000 in the metric system, and 1,024,000 in computer memory," and K is "an abbreviation for kilo, which is 1000 in the metric system and 1024 in computer memory." Bet you didn't know the Hindu-Arabic decimal system was metric, or that binary notation changed computer memory in some strange fashion, adding 24,000 somewhere.

Latest Apple Rumors!!

Steven Jobs, beloved co-founder of Apple Computer Corp., has left the company after selling an additional 500,000 shares of stock for $7.5 million. In his resignation letter to Apple Vice Chairman Mike Markkula, Jobs claimed the Apple board of directors "appears to be adopting a hostile posture towards me . . . I find myself both saddened and perplexed by the management's conduct in this matter which seems to me contrary to Apple's best interests."

Jobs, who is founding a new computer company, claimed he would not steal key personnel, but the next day took five senior people. Apple is suing to prevent loss of trade secrets.

Meanwhile, Apple sales have improved.
